ORGANIZATION FOR COMMUNITY CHEST EFFECTED

Mayor W. W. Scott named permanent Chairman; W. T. Helms Secretary.

SEPTEMBER DRIVE PLANNED

Budget Committee Will Be Appointed To Carry Out All Arrangements

By appointing Mayor W. W. Scott chairman, and W. T. Helms secretary, a permanent organization was effected of a representative committee working to make the Community Chest for Richmond a reality, at a meeting held at the chamber of commerce last night.

At the meeting Mayor Scott was authorized to appoint a budget committee to work out a concrete plan for the successful prosecution of the Community Chest idea. Scott declared the budget committee would be small, but would represent all the various ramifications of the city, including public service corporations, civic and social clubs. The committee will probably be announced at a meeting to be held Thursday night, June 13.

Thus far the initial committee of 80 appointed to start the ball rolling, reported that the plan for the chest has met with no opposition, and has unanimous endorsement. Approximately 30 of the original committee was present at the meeting last night.

Percy Sanford, president of the Builders' Exchange, urged that the chest fund should be raised by local talent instead of bringing an expensive expert from elsewhere to supervise the drive. Clara J. Wilson, head of the health center, agreed with Sanford's stand.

It is expected to launch a community chest drive in Richmond the latter part of September or the first of October. Filled coffers of a chest here would obviate individual charity drives for funds, as the chest would provide for all charitable institutions under the supervision of the city.

Says Local Fire Department Needs Many More Men

Richmond's fire department is undermanned, undertrained, and under disciplined, and as a result one of the first moves to be made by Fire Chief Henry C. Johnson in reorganizing the department will be a recommendation to the city manager that the personnel of the department be increased.

In making this announcement Chief Johnson said he desired his remarks interpreted as constructive, not destructive criticism.

Rigorous drilling of the men and study of problems of the department, and careful inspection of premises to remove all fire hazards will shortly be inaugurated, Chief Johnson declared.

"A thorough inspection of business and residential houses to remove fire hazards plays an all-important part in the prevention of fires," he said. "The purpose of the inspection is three fold. It furthers the cause of fire prevention; tends to reduce fire insurance rates, and aids in accumulation of data and knowledge of conditions in different localities that aid the department in fighting fires."

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Smith and Ted Dickens left Richmond yesterday for Prescott, Wash., where William Dickens, father of Mrs. Smith and son of Mr. Blake, is confined to his home. Dr. C. L. Abbott is in attendance.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Serious illness has been suffered by John McCann, 458 Fourteenth St., who is confined to his home. Dr. C. L. Abbott is in attendance.

California To Take Water Out of Air

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—The California government has attempted to do a great many things, but today it is engaged probably for the first time in the business of trying to take water out of the air.

It costs much money and time to flood the new concrete roads of California as the state highway commission has been doing in the past to insure their durability. So the commission is putting calcium chloride on the highways to draw the necessary moisture out of the atmosphere. This will save both time, money and labor—if it works. Experiments are being made near Sacramento and Los Angeles.

OPPOSE TRAFFIC ROUTE CHANGE

Condemnation of the move of the city planning commission to develop a northerly route through the city from the Richmond-San Rafael ferry by way of Castro street, instead of through the business section, was voiced by E. J. Burg at a meeting of the Richmond Real Estate board, which met yesterday afternoon to discuss multiple listing. Burg merely brought up the subject at the meeting. No stand has yet been taken by the realtors on the question.

That the merchants of the city annually lose between $200,000 and $300,000 in business as traffic has been routed along Cutting boulevard instead of toward the business section, Burg declared. Motorists traveling Cutting boulevard have gained a wrong impression of the city, MacDonald avenue can stand plenty of traffic yet.

The real estate board, as well as the merchants of the city, according to Burg, strongly urge that traffic be routed across Wildcat Creek, down Twenty-third street, which is straight, 80 feet wide, paved, and with no railroad tracks cutting it. From Twenty-third, the realtors suggest the traffic be diverted to Macdonald avenue and thence to Garrard boulevard.

The Merchants' association of the city, which also desired traffic along Macdonald, has called a meeting of all the committees working on the proposition for tonight.

Child Labor Employers To Be Reported

Employers working children in the asparagus fields at Bradford Island will be reported to state authorities, according to Dr. C. A. Blake, county health officer. Dr. Blake, who recently made a trip of inspection through the district, declared that many children under the age limit were being worked in the fields, and that sanitation conditions were far from being good.

A second trip is to be made by Dr. Blake next week, at which time all those violating the law will be reported. Between 25 and 30 children under 15 are working in the fields, he said. One family alone of eight children were being employed for the work in direct violation of the law.

Funeral Held for Louis G. Pinder

Last rites were held here yesterday for the late Louis G. Pinder, 38, who died at the home of his sister in Berkeley. The rites were held from the Bert Curry parlors. Cremation was made in Sunset View.

DE MOLAY AND SCIOTS HOSTS TO OFFICERS

More Than 200 Members Turn Out at Reception in Honor Of Jesse Whited

PROGRAM FEATURES EVENING

Mayor W. W. Scott is Speaker at Banquet; Pledges Support To Boys

DeMolay and Scio Masonic orders had one of the biggest turnouts in the history of the DeMolay when fully 200 members gathered at Richmond hall last night in honor of Jesse Whited, one of the original organizers of the DeMolay lodge, and active grand marshal of DeMolay.

Whited was banqueted and feted, and speeches featured the entertainment. William Mouser, chairman of the advisory board of Oakland chapter, outlined the work the Oakland chapter is doing. Harry Ellis, top arch of Richmond pyramid, gave an interesting talk on Masonry.

All chapters of DeMolay of the Bay district will participate in a reception to be given in San Francisco to Judge Alexander D. Cochran, grand master counselor of DeMolay, and Mark S. Land, grand scribe and founder of the order of DeMolay.

Both Judge Cochran and Land are from Kansas City, and have not yet arrived in San Francisco.

At the banquet last night 80 members of Richmond pyramid of Sciois attended. Before the banquet two DeMolay boys put on a three-round boxing match for the delectation of those present.

Mayor W. W. Scott in a speech told how the Richmond pyramid of Sciois are going to give the DeMolay chapter all support possible. To back up his speech, Mayor Scott conducted a mock trial, acting as judge and jury, and assessed each Scio good coin of the realm, all of which was turned over to the DeMolay order.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS HERE

An excellent program was given by the Guatemala Marimba band as the opening number of the Chautauqua program which started here last night at the tent at Twelfth and Bissell. The six marimba players showed exceptional skill and were generously applauded.

This afternoon a municipal entertainment will be given by the Roach-Freeman duo, composed of Ada Roach and Ruth-Freeman, composed of Ada Roach and Ruth-Freeman, tall-tailed funmakers. While there is enough of the serious in their program to give good balance, they consist mainly of impersonations, dialect and other monologues, parodies on many fads and foibles of the day, songs, violin solos and numbers on the piano, banjo and concertino.

In the evening the Roach-Freeman duo will again appear and an address, "Moonlight Schools" will be given by Cora Wilson Stewart, Kentucky woman who founded schools for the emancipation of adult illiterates. Since 1912 more than 30,000 adults have been liberated from educational darkness in Kentucky. Cora Wilson Stewart, originator of the movement, is a cultured southern woman of remarkable intellect, poise, beauty and magnetism, and will personally relate what has been termed "the greatest story ever told," the story of the "Moonlight Schools."

RETURN TO HOMES

Miss Henrietta Spitzer and Miss Edna M. Davey, Grant school teachers, have returned to their homes in Prosserville for the summer vacation.

SIX CANDIDATES FOR QUEEN AT FETE QUALIFY

Miss Gwendolyn Damsell Leads Field By Slight Margin

AMY SCHULTZ IS SECOND

Contestants Closely Grouped As Race Starts For Big Festival

The six young ladies who are candidates for queen in the contest being held in connection with the Circus and Pageant of Products under the auspices of the veterans of this city, got away to a good start last night, when each one qualified with a handsome margin.

Miss Gwendolyn Damsell lead the field with 1265 votes, being two and one-half votes ahead of Miss Jeanette Tease, who had 1262 1-2. Next came Miss Amy Schultz, with 1250 votes, and Miss Dorothy Hayes, with 1250 votes, and Miss George Nere, with 1137 1-2 and Miss Nere 1125.

Each of the girls was keenly alert to the possibilities in the contest, and each showed determination to be one of the winners.

The second count will be held in the Circus headquarters, 267, Twelfth street, at 7:30 this evening. The prizes, which include three handsome diamond rings, made to order from exclusive designs, will be placed on display as soon as finished, and full publicity given as to where they may be seen.

The committee have been informed that there probably will be other candidates entering the contest today.

The Baby Contest
The baby contest is being formally launched, and the War Mothers promise to make this one of the most interesting phases of the big show.

Sections in the industrial section in the big tent are going rapidly. Other merchants will take space today, according to the committee.

Parentage Fight Holds Interest In Superior Court

MARTINEZ, June 11.—An affidavit of parentage filed today in Superior court revealed a strange battle that is being made for custody of a 7-year-old girl by the child's father Jack Ross a railroad worker of Salem Ore, and the peculiar twists of fate that brought the Oregon man to Martinez this morning to pursue to the end his efforts to secure legal guardianship of the girl and establish legitimacy of birth.

Assigned on one side of the struggle is Giuseppe Demarco of Crockett who claims that the girl, Carmello Demarco or Carmella Ross, is the child of his deceased daughter, Rosa Demarco, killed in an automobile accident in Solano county on January 6, 1924. On the other is Ross, admitted father of the child, who claims that the girl whom Demarco calls Carmella Demarco, is Carmella Ross, the issue of a marriage between him and Demarco's former wife, Francesco Demarco, now deceased.

The story of the strange situation remained hidden until today behind the terse and unenlightened petition of Demarco for guardianship of the girl, which was granted him by Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie on January 28. Today Ross filed his affidavit with the court along with a motion to vacate the order of guardianship.

In his affidavit Ross strenuously asserts that the child Carmella is the daughter of himself and his deceased wife, and not the child of his stepdaughter, Rosa.

The strange situation had its beginning in 1916 when Ross married Mrs. Demarco, who had divorced her husband. The couple made their home at Salem, Ore, and Rosa Demarco resided with them. Ross says Carmella Ross was born in 1917. In

COOLIDGE MEN WAGE BATTLE ON WRECKING CREW

Position of Party Made Clear In Talk By Frank W. Mondell

HOWLAND ALSO CRITICIZES

Wisconsin Delegation Made Object of Attack; Tells of Rules of Organization

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The second session of the Republican convention, opening at 11 this morning, gave additional emphasis to the Coolidge-Butler program to drive all insurgents out of the party and recognize only those who are "regular" and ready to accept without qualification the party program.

This was brought out in the speech made by Frank W. Mondell when he took the chair as permanent chairman, and later in the adoption of rules which are to govern the party organization the next four years.

The Wisconsin delegation, composed of La Follette supporters, sat silently during the demonstration that followed Mondell's sarcastic allusions to the work the "insurgent wrecking crew" did in Congress at the last session.

The other chastiser of the irregulars was Paul Howland of Cleveland, Ohio, who gave particular attention to the Brookhart-Wheeler investigating committee, and chairman of the convention committee on rules. Howland took the platform and read the entire report, remarking as he did so that it probably was the first time any of the Republicans had been given an opportunity to know what the rules which govern the party are.

Coming to the rules for organization of the national committee, Howland gave particular attention to the provision which permits the committee to expel from its membership any committeeman who "refuses to support the nominees of the convention." He read this in a loud voice and paused after reading it.

The convention took it as another signal for rebuke to the insurgents and applauded loudly.

After nineteen years marriage ties have grown irksome according to suit for divorce instituted at Martinez yesterday by Peter Parelle, of Richmond against Mary Parelle. In the last few months Parelle alleges his wife has cursed him and told him to get out of the house. On May 11 the day of their separation, Parelle claims that his wife hit him in the face with a fork. The couple have five children whose custody Parelle asks the court to award him. C. D. Horner is attorney for plaintiff.

August, 1923, Mrs. Ross died at Vallejo, and Ross, his daughter, and stepdaughter, Rosa, came to Vallejo to attend the funeral. Rosa, according to Ross' affidavit, desired to remain with Carmella and visit a sister, Mrs. Carmella Spindelo of Vallejo, and her father at Crockett. Ross declares he gave his consent on the condition that Rosa would return with Carmella to Salem in two weeks.

Rosa failed to return or send the child, according to Ross, despite repeated demand. On January 6, Rosa was killed in Solano county in an automobile accident.

Hoover Refuses To Be Coolidge Running Mate

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Secretary Hoover, in a telegram to the California delegation at the Republican National Convention, tonight requested them not to present his name to the convention as Vice Presidential candidate. The message was in reply to one sent him during the day urging his consent to a plan to offer his name for the Vice Presidential nomination. The text was not made public.

G. O. P. Platform Is Adopted By Meet Delegates

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—After a bitter fight lasting throughout the night, the drafting committee of the Republican National convention finally agreed upon the new Coolidge platform at 5:20 a. m. today.

In a smoke-filled room of the Cleveland hotel here, the planks were hewn, one by one, with many stormy struggles. The bloc representatives on the committee staged a long attack on the agricultural relief provision, but just before dawn they were compelled to accept what they described as a "lukewarm compromise."

The platform is 6000 words in length and is based upon the original Coolidge design of criticizing the recent congress. Here is a paraphrase of its provisions as given today.

ECONOMY—Statement on accomplishments of administration, with emphasis on reducing number of government employees and conserving expenditures.

AGRICULTURE—Promise to restore balance of economic conditions as between agriculture and industry.

WORLD COURT—Re-statement of position against American entrance or adherence to the league of nations. An expression that this government should enter some sort of international court of justice, expressing belief in the Harding-Coolidge plan with Hughes reservations.

SECRET ORGANIZATIONS—Declaring that guarantees, or religious and political freedom as assured under the constitution must be protected. A plank specifically denouncing the Ku Klux Klan was voted down.

IMMIGRATION—Praise of the new restrictive immigration bill.

SCANDALS—Condemnation of misfeasance and malfeasance in office with a specific reference to the senate investigations.

TAXATION—Belief that reduction of taxation should be based upon some plan more scientific than the new law. A call for reform in methods of taxation. A declaration favoring the proposal for organization of a tax revision commission to work out with the state governments some means for avoiding overlapping taxation.

VETERANS' BUREAU—A demand that every possible care be afforded disabled veterans.

PROHIBITION—Pledges general law enforcement.

LAW AND ORDER—A plea for orderly government.

World Court Plan Pledged, League of Nations is Opposed

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The Republican National Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, after voting down the resolutions on the platform offered by the La Follette faction and adopting the platform as presented by the resolutions committee.

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Ambassador Warren finished the reading of the platform at 9:40 p. m.

A demonstration followed with nearly all the delegates standing. Chairman Mondell then recognized Henry Allen Cooper of Wisconsin, leader of the LaFollette group, to present the resolutions embodied in the LaFollette platform.

Cooper, a venerable and dignified, was generously applauded. He was given ten minutes in which to present his report.

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—A Coolidge platform for Coolidge to run on was worked out here today by the Republicans assembled to nominate Coolidge.

Every plank as it came from the committee on resolutions and presented to the delegates for their approval bore the White House branding mark.

The platform pledges the party to take the country into the world court, along the route prescribed by Harding-Hughes-Coolidge but not into the League of Nations.

Further tax reduction is pledged through tax reform.

The creation of a non-partisan commission to make a comprehensive survey and report of federal and state tax conditions is endorsed.

Charges Fraud In Sale of Store

Charging fraud and misrepresentation in the sale of the Blue Jay delicatessen store in Richmond, C. L. and Helen Mitchell, the purchasers, yesterday filed suit in the Superior court at Martinez against E. W. and Christine Graefenecker, for $3,360 damages.

The plaintiffs allege that the Graefeneckers misrepresented business conditions when they sold the Blue Jay in Ninth street, opposite the Roosevelt Junior High school. The store, the complaint recites, was purchased last December, and eleven days subsequent to the sale, the students were restrained from patronizing the store because of the installation of a cafeteria at the school.

The store depends mainly on student patronage, and it is charged that the defendants withheld knowledge that such an order was pending at the school at the time the sale was consummated.

The Mitchells ask $1300 depreciation on a three-year lease and $1160 representing the value of the business purchased. The action was filed through the attorneys for the plaintiffs, Calfee and Dunnell.

Unusual Features Planned at Beach Vacation Days

Vacation days will be happy days for the youthful visitors to Neptune Beach, Alameda. The management of the big outdoor playground has assembled a list of unusual features for the vacation period. They have given the week of June 16th to 21st inclusive the title of "Fun Week," and claim that every bit of entertainment possible will be crowded into the six days.

"Live babies" will be given away one of these days, it is announced. This will be a surprise stunt, with much of the humor element, the beach people promise. On another day there will be a dolls' show with prizes, a kiddie's dancing revue, a boys' gymnastic day, a "Frozen Dainty" day and a pie-eating contest. Everything that will tend to amuse the children will be done, according to the Neptune Beach special events department.

Children will be given coupons entitling them to half rates on the rides and concessions in the park. The playground supervisor will arrange games and contests for the little ones.

An exceptional bill of free vaudeville will be presented on the outdoor stage next Sunday at Neptune Beach. Professor Trancered Valera's 16-piece concert band will present a special program. Percy Bingham's symphony-jazz orchestra will play for dancing in the beach pavilion.

The steward in the Neptune Beach cafeteria and restaurant is arranging an unusual menu for the next week-end. Dining at the beach is proving popular with an ever-increasing public. Then there are hundreds who supplement their picnic lunches with dainties from the cafeteria. The chef, Victor Hertler, is becoming famous for his roast beef and special sauces.

The French colony of the bay district will celebrate "Fall of the Bastille Day," July 14, at Neptune Beach.

Funeral Tomorrow for Mrs. Smoot

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for the late Mrs. Mary Frances Smoot, a pioneer resident of California, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Amelia O'Loan, 2031 Barrett avenue, early yesterday morning. Mrs. Smoot came across the plains in 1859 by oxcart, and was the first white woman in Marin. She was 77 years of age and a native of Missouri. Her death followed an illness of only a week.

The deceased is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Katherine Morris, Fresno, Mrs. Amelia O'Loan of Richmond and one son, W. J. Phillips, 460 Twentieth street, Richmond, four grand children and one great grandchild. The services are under the direction of the Wilson & Kratzer parlors. Interment will be made in Sunset View cemetery.

Miller and Hands In Resignation

PARIS, June 11.—Alexander Miller and handed in his resignation today as president of the French republic. When parliament convened this afternoon for the simultaneous reading of the letter of resignation in both houses, there was much speculation as to his successor. The new president will be a supporter of the policies of the left bloc (radical Socialists). He will be elected Friday.

President Painleve of the Chamber of Deputies, after reading M. Miller's letter of resignation, announced that the national assembly would be convened at Versailles at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to elect a new president of the republic.

A cabinet meeting was held yesterday afternoon, after which President Miller sent his letter of resignation to the presidents of the Chamber and Senate. This communication was one of the shortest of the kind on record, merely saying:

"I have the honor to transmit to you my resignation as president of the republic."

Resignation of the Francois-Marsal cabinet is expected at once.

By the end of the week, according to the present program, France will have an entirely new government.

Miller and became president of France in September, 1920.

Boy Husband Says 'Love Everything'

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Mrs. Susie Burnham Simpson Tucker, somewhere between 40 and 50 years of age, and her 17-year-old husband, Burton S. Tucker, are not ready to let the "I told you so" contingent have its inning.

As a matter of fact, the contingent is doomed to disappointment if impressions gleaned yesterday in the "Tucker 'love nest'" Cottage No. 4, at the Summit of Mt. Lowe, be not amiss.

"If there is love, what else matters?" inquires the boy husband, whose love affair and marriage with a woman nearly three times his age set tongues to wagging, typewriters to clicking, paternal parents about his ears, and a grand jury in the State of New Jersey to indicting last fall.

"I love my wife, and if that isn't enough, take a look at this," and the proud youth exhibited two-months-old Violet, whose baby features undeniably are moulded in the image of her father.

"You can tell the world that I'm proud of my family."

In the cottage with the Tucker's and their infant daughter are 6-year-old Peggy, a daughter of Mrs. Tucker by a former marriage; Constance Story, 11, niece of Mrs. Tucker; a nurse and a housekeeper.

Not only do the Tuckers maintain the mountain establishment, but they have taken permanently a pretentious bungalow in Altadena, and the young husband is making arrangements, via his wife, to go into the real estate business in Altadena with J. S. Gledhill.

"We're going to stay in California; my father has driven us out of New Jersey and New York," says young Tucker. "And while we are on the subject, I want to make it clear that my father's objections to the marriage came after he had found out, by going through one of my coats that Mrs. Tucker had given me $10,000. He tried to attach that account, but failed. He wanted us to buy him off."

At this point young Tucker put his arms across the shoulders of his motherly wife and drew her to him.

"We don't care about anything so long as we have each other. We'll go back to New Jersey in the fall and get this indictment business out on the way, then we'll come back to southern California and go on minding our own business. I'm going into business, you know—real estate and bonds—in Altadena."

"You don't really expect me to answer that," she countered. "I will say that the newspapers have never given me any the best of it concerning my age. I'm not 50 yet, and I'm not so far along in the forties. Just say I'm in the early forties."

Barrel House Wins Over All Standard Nine, Score 4-1

By plastering a 4 to 1 defeat on the All Standards last night at the First street diamond, the Barrel House caversers entrenched more firmly their hold on first place in the Standard Twilight league. Had it not been for Fitzgerald's four-ply clout over the left field fence in the first canto, which scored 3 runs, the box score might have told a different tale.

Be that as it may, the Barrel House boys won and won handily. But it was one of those tough games that a pitcher hates to lose. Jean Kersten, who catapulted the ball across the plate for the All Standards, allowed but four hits, three of them coming in the first inning.

Kersten Good After the first round Kersten twirled in big league style, and let his opponents down with a single hit. He had the Barrel House bunch breaking their backs at his stuff. He curled his twisters nicely across all corners of the plate, and had plenty of smoke.

However, Kersten cannot pass the buck to his teammates for the defeat, for his club gave him good support, making only one bobble. Now for the first spasm. Allen jod off with a base blow. Artie Schimpff promptly sacrificed him to second. Nelson drew free transportation. Here is where Fitzgerald let the crowd know that he was very much in the game, by homing over the left field barrier, scoring three markers. Kersten steadied after that clout, and Peters fled out. After Merani singled and stole second, Rubke ended the round by striking out.

Score in Fourth The Barrel House gang made it a quartet of runs in the fourth by scoring their other and last run. Peters was safe on Cronin's misue. Merani took three swipes at the ozone and sat down. Peters stole second. Rubke popped out, but Peters came across on a double to center by Vianni.

The lone run scored by the All Standards came in the sixth inning. After the first two batters were retired, Lane singled in field. Friene drove a long double to deep center, bringing Lane in. Benson killed any chances for further scoring by grounding out to Allen.

Fail to Tie The All Standards started out strong in the last interim of combat, but nary a run trickled over the pan. McDonald led off by smashing a safety to the right garden. After Kersten popped out, Roy Nelson drove one to center for a base hit. But Cullers and Cronin were not equal to the occasion, and forced runners out at second on weak infield tape, ending the battle. Lefty Cothran, who was more generous with his hits than was Kersten, allowing seven, pitched a heady game and served up few fat ones for the All Standards to cut at. Lane proved the batting star of the game by garnering two safeties.

Marjorie Daw Tells of Thrill Under Pendulum

Marjorie Daw, the pretty little motion picture actress, who will be seen in a leading part in "Dinty" which will be shown for the last time tonight at the Richmond theatre, declares she went through the most "squeamish" experience of her career during the making of that film.

She plays the part of Ruth Whiteley, daughter of Judge Whiteley, who has incurred the deadly enmity of "King" Dork, Malay half-breed and leader of a gang of henchmen. Dork kidnaps the judge's daughter and plans a terrible revenge for the sentence of his son. Ruth is strapped to a table with a swinging pendulum with a razor edge. The fiendish contrivance drops just an inch every time it swings, coming nearer and nearer the strapped victim. "Dinty" O'Sullivan, a newsboy and his Chinese friends, however, bring about a rescue in the nick of time and Ruth is restored to her father and fiancé. "Acting that scene was the most nerve-racking experience I have ever had," said Marjorie. "Of course, I knew everything would come out all right, but just the same I had cold chills looking at that swinging pendulum. I believe I went through all the sensations of a drowning person, because it seems as though I thought of everything I had ever done in my whole life. The scene was terribly realistic and I never felt more relieved than I did when it was all over."

Other features on the same program include: Billy West in his latest cyclone of laughs, "Hello, Bill," "Screen Snapshots," showing our favorite screen stars on and off the lot.
